Defining Traditional and Modern Astrology

Eve is a practicing Astrologer, Flower Essence Therapist, a published Writer and Lecturer with a particular interest in Horary and Traditional Astrology. She has been a student of Astrology since 1995 and her passion for Traditional Astrology began in 1999. Her ruling planet Jupiter and preponderous Sagittarius energy in her chart directs her passion for reconnecting people to the philosophical roots, power and magic of their astrological lineage through her teaching. She is a tutor for the School of Traditional Astrology lecturing and administrating the Australia friendly time zone horary practitioner course. She has also written and presented her own 'The Foundation of Astrology' course, an interactive course that focuses on traditional delineation of the birth chart.

The current state of the world mirrors our modern obsession with matter and individuality. For over 2000 years Astrology was not so focused on the individual and their process, but rather on human being's relationship to the Divine as reflected in the Cosmos. Is it now time to reclaim the wisdom of the past and redefine Astrology in accordance with its' lineage?
